

OVERVIEW:

Mentorship Relationships provide countless benefits for the Employees, the Leaders and Organizations as a whole.

Learn what Mentorship entails; the role of the Mentor, the Mentee, and the role of senior leaders in the process. This workshop provides an outline for designing and establishing a formalized mentorship program. .

The objectives of the workshop includes:

- Understanding what Mentoring is and what it isn't;
- The benefits for the mentor, the mentee, and the organization;
- Identifying the major components included in a Mentorship Program;
- The Knowledge, Skills, and Attributes required for those involved; and
- The many and varied applications for Mentoring in the workplace.
- The Do's and Don'ts of Mentoring.

Throughout the one-day workshop there are individual as well as team exercises and activities that will develop and build the knowledge base and skills required for involvement in a Mentorship program.

OUR PRESENTER:

Holly Hobbs, IPMA-ACP

Holly is an experienced Human Resource professional with more than 20 years of experience in the areas of labour relations, employee relations, training and development and project management. Her work has included many years of experience at a senior and executive level in both the Human Resources and Management fields with a variety of organizations.

Holly has a passion for not only connecting with individuals but also helping them grow as individuals as well as in their career. Therefore, she is also very involved with mentoring, from designing and implementing mentoring programs to one-on-one mentoring in her areas of expertise. Her other areas of expertise are in negotiations, workplace investigations, mediations, change management, and facilitation.

Holly's strong knowledge base combined with her extensive and diverse career allows her to draw from a variety of experiences and provide clients with innovative thinking and sound decision making.
